

As a reviewer, we need your feedback on the following five (5) questions.

Are there suggestions, recommendations, etc. in this parenting text that you would actually try/use in your practice? reference in your work? If yes, please cite and provide a 2-3 sentence justification.

Are there suggestions, recommendations, etc. in this parenting text that you have tried (or seen) which you believe and/or know are just not effective? If yes, please cite and provide a 2-3 sentence justification.

Are there suggestions, recommendations, etc. in this parenting text that you think are interesting and/or believe some parents would find interesting, but you have NOT tried or implemented them in your practice/work? If yes, please cite and provide a 2-3 sentence justification.

In reading how Dr. Buckley approaches "honest parenting," do you see any connections to concepts in your own professional career? Which concepts in your subject matter area would be the most appropriate descriptors for his approach to parenting?

What are your final words of advice and encouragement for Dr. Buckley as he finishes the book and prepares for the publication, promotion and distribution of Honest Parenting?

Because we are excited about getting this eBook into the hands of millennials as quickly as possible, we would be absolutely thrilled if you would submit your review, via the Dropbox below, before Monday, August 19th.